THE BELSTEADS SCHOOL

NEWS OF THE WEEK

This week, Flourish Class worked with Memma the cavewoman and they designed and made their own felt bags. They also launched the coracle made last year, into the local river! In such hot weather, our students headed to the river again and, those who wanted to, jumped in and enjoyed feeling cool. What a fabulous way to spend time this week.

Finally, today was our Prom and Giant Inflatables Day. It was our favourite one yet. Students, families and friends joined us for a day of celebration and fun. Giant inflatable assault courses, a climbing wall, fairground stalls, 18 holes of crazy golf, henna tattoos, face painting and even a photographer providing pictures to take home and keep. Picnics, ice-cream and loads of fun. What better way to celebrate the end of another Belsteads School year?!

Thank you to everyone - present students, past students and future students, for joining in the day and for making us so proud of you all.

Richard's assembly was about our achievements during the last year. Students shared new things they had tried and how much more confident they have become.

Brian D, who has been our safeguarding governor for several years, is stepping down now. We want to thank him for everything he has done for us and for all of his support too. Brian has promised to come and visit though!

Diary dates:

Friday 17th July is our last day of term. We finish at the usual time of 3.00pm.

No official Headteacher's award this week but some 'shout outs' to students who have done some lovely things...

James, who has been very helpful and kind to others this week.

Angus, who automatically cleared up some mess left by some other students, without being asked.

DJ, who welcomed one of our students who will join us in September. He made sure they had a brilliant day today and they felt at home.

Well done and thank you!
